

DESIGN MASTERS

By Karen Green

From the houses we inhabit to the restaurants we frequent and the gadgets we utilize to “power up” our lives, design plays a key role in who we are and how we live. To celebrate the art (and design) of our daily lives, Long Island Pulse has caught up with three prominent players in their respective design fields to get their take on “design for living.”